HAGERTY CAR MOBBED. Fanatic Japanese leftists, screaming anti-Eisenhower oaths, trapped White House Press Secretary James Hagerty and U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur III in their car Thursday at Tokyo International Airport for an hour before a Marine helicopter could rescue the two. The car was beaten on and windows were broken by the crowd attempting to forestall Pres. Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Japan later this month. (UPI Telephoto)

Won't Change Ike's Plans, Hagerty Says

5,000 Screaming Japanese Besiege Car Of Eisenhower's Aide In Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) — Five thousand screaming Japanese besieged White House press secretary James C. Hagerty's car for an hour and 20 minutes today, but both Hagerty and the White House announced the demonstration would not change President Eisenhower's plans to visit Japan June 19.

Hagerty told a news conference tonight:

"We are sure that the demonstrations in no way reflect the feeling and the attitude of the great majority of the Japanese people for whom America has the warmest friendship."

In Washington, associate press secretary Anne Wheaton said the President had "expressed gratification" that Hagerty and White House appointment secretary Thomas E. Stephens, who was with him, were not hurt by the demonstrators.

Asked whether the President would still go to Japan, Mrs. Wheaton said, "I know of no change in plans."

Hagerty, here to complete arrangements for Eisenhower's visit, said the demonstration was obviously carefully planned. He said the fact that the demonstrators were singing the "Internationale"

—the song of international communism—raised doubts whether they even had allegiance to Japan.

The demonstrators, out to convince Hagerty that Eisenhower should postpone his trip, claim their real target is Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi because his Liberal Democratic party pushed the new U.S.-Japan security alliance through the lower house of Parliament in a violent session May 20.

At his news conference Hagerty was asked whether it would not be risking Eisenhower's safety to bring him to Japan in the present turmoil.

"I wouldn't think so," Hagerty replied. "He will be a guest of Japan. I would think that the necessity for protection would be adequately handled by the capable forces of the Japanese government."

The demonstrations had been called out by Zengakuren, Japan's extreme leftist student federation, and the leftist Sohyo Federation of Labor Unions.

Japanese police finally cleared an opening around the battered car in which Hagerty, Stephens and U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II had been held prisoner. Then a U.S. Marine helicopter swooped down, picked them up and flew them to an Army base.

From there they drove to the back gate of the heavily guarded U.S. Embassy and slipped in, escaping 8,000 demonstrators massed out front. Within a few minutes, however, several hundred students rushed up to the back gate and battled police, who kept them from breaking into the embassy compound.

Hagerty refused to see leaders of the demonstrators, and the crowd settled down for an all-night vigil in front of the embassy, chanting and shouting slogans attacking Hagerty, the President's visit and Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi.

Armed American guards stood watch at the embassy entrances. It was the most violent anti-American outburst since leftist opponents of the new security pact began staging daily demonstrations three weeks ago against the Kishi government and Eisenhower's visit.

The airport demonstration had been promised for days, and MacArthur came out by helicopter to escape the thousands blocking one access road to the airport and lining the other. But Hagerty apparently refused to bow to the leftists and chose to try to reach the city by car as originally scheduled.

Several hundred police at first made only token attempts to intervene as the mob of students and labor union members besieged Hagerty after his arrival from Okinawa to complete arrangements for Eisenhower's visit.

Shouting "Hagerty go home," the mob rushed the 1956 embassy Cadillac as it started off.

The screaming, chanting demonstrators beat on the sides of the car, kicked at the doors and cracked windows on both sides. Some crawled on top. But no one tried to enter the car or physically harm the occupants. Nor did they molest other American cars in the caravan.

American plainclothes guards and embassy officials held their bodies against the outside of the car to protect those inside. Hagerty and the other occupants sat inside, calmly smoking. Hagerty took pictures with a small camera.

Finally, 1,000 police rushed in. The mob surged back again.

Child Injured When Washer Catches Arm

A 7-year-old E. 2nd St. boy was rushed to City Hospital by police shortly before noon today after the youngster's left arm was caught in a wringer in a washing machine.

The youngster was identified as John Wooten, whose family moved into a home at E. 2nd and Union Sts. a few days ago. Neighbors said police helped free the boy's trapped arm.

The child was in the emergency room at the hospital undergoing examination.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wooten.

U.S. Firm To Soviet On Free World Defense

GENEVA (AP) — The United States firmly told the Soviet Union today it will not abandon the collective defense of the free world as the price for a world disarmament treaty.

U. S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton said the new Soviet disarmament plan would require the "liquidation of all free world security arrangements through the complete and immediate withdrawal of U. S. forces from the areas overseas where they are now stationed at the specific request of our friends."

Eaton gave the 10-nation disarmament conference the first formal Western comments on the plan put forward by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev last week.

Over Ex-Nazi Jew Killer West Seeks Compromise In Israel-Argentina Case

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Western diplomats are trying to work out a face-saving compromise to avert a showdown between Argentina and Israel in the United Nations over Adolf Eichmann.

Argentina charged the seizure of Eichmann by Jewish commandos in Buenos Aires violated her sovereignty and said she would appeal to the U. N. unless Israel returned him. The former Nazi is accused of helping direct Hitler's extermination of the Jews.

Informed sources in Israel said Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion would not comply with the Argentine demand. But he was reported to have sent a conciliatory letter to Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

Official sources in Buenos Aires said Argentina would sympathetically consider mediation of the dispute by some foreign country or a suggestion that the case be taken up by the International Court in The Hague.

Diplomats in the South American capital speculated that a European country — perhaps France — might be asked to mediate. Frondizi and Ben-Gurion will both be touring Europe next week and their paths may cross in Paris.

Western authorities in London were reported behind the move to let the World Court — organ of the United Nations — rule whether Eichmann was kidnapped or, as Israel claims, agreed to go with

Prince Philip Lauds British, U.S. Relations

NEW YORK (AP) — Prince Philip, in New York to open the 200-million-dollar British exhibition at the Coliseum today, says the people of both nations have a new ending job to do in preserving friendly Anglo-American relations.

"This business is like a garden," said Prince Philip, duke of Edinburgh and husband of Queen Elizabeth II.

"Leave it to itself and weeds and confusion take over. We can only have the right understanding if we make a conscious and continuing effort to get it."

The prince commended the present good relations between the United States and Great Britain in speaking at a dinner sponsored jointly Thursday night by Pilgrims and the English-Speaking Union of the United States. The Waldorf-Astoria hotel dinner was attended by 1,400 members and guests of the two organizations, which are dedicated to fostering Anglo-American friendship.

Eaton Says U.S. Needs Man Like British Chief

LONDON (AP) — Cyrus Eaton said today the United States needs a man like British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for president.

The Cleveland, Ohio, industrialist, a native of Canada, who is a staunch advocate of cooperation with Communist countries, said in an airport interview: "I think the American people have been carried away by jingoism."

Jab Strikes Even Harder At President

Aides Say Long Shot Intent Was Mainly To Keep Nixon Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — In hitting at Vice President Richard M. Nixon, New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller struck perhaps even more resoundingly at President Eisenhower.

Some of the President's aides reportedly feel there is no question about it. However, most of this group is said to believe that Rockefeller's intent was to train his main fire on Nixon in a long shot effort to keep him from winning the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller's Wednesday statement called on Nixon to set forth his views on a number of matters in advance of the Republican nominating convention.

But in underscoring his own announced availability for a draft, Rockefeller swatted hard at Eisenhower administration policies, although Rockefeller once was on Eisenhower's White House staff and later served as Under Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

The New York governor said some nice things about Eisenhower in general terms, but then proceeded to fly in detail at administration policies. And Rockefeller well knows that as President, Eisenhower is responsible for those policies.

Thruston B. Morton, the Republican national chairman, was asked Thursday whether he added up to an attack on the Eisenhower record. Morton replied he did think so.

Rockefeller conferred with Eisenhower for an hour and a half at the White House before going to New York and making his statement public. Administration officials report that the governor summarized his views, but did not show the President his statement before it was handed to newsmen.

'Screening' Suggested In Expense Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex.) today proposed that the General Accounting Office—fiscal watchdog for Congress—screen expense accounts filed by members of the House.

Burleson said he favors both a GAO look at members' travel bills before money is paid out, and publication of expenses claimed by legislators while on congressional business out of Washington.

GAO auditors already have undertaken a sampling of the accounts turned in by House members and paid during the two fiscal years that ended last June 30.

Burleson is chairman of the House Administration Committee through which expense accounts pass. They go then to the disbursing office where members collect reimbursement for their travel costs.

Recent stories by Knight Newspapers have detailed large sums charged by some House members for plush quarters, lavish meals and cocktails while on trips for committees to which they belong.

Records in the disbursing office have been closed since House clerk Ralph R. Roberts said he found a photographer taking pictures of the files several weeks ago.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) has announced the books will be reopened but has set no date.

Union Says Strike At Convair Missile Plants To Spread

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Union spokesmen say the strike against Convair's far-flung missile facilities will spread Monday to the firm's big airplane and missile-making plants here.

The move would idle 20,000 workers building Atlas intercontinental missiles, F106 interceptors and speedy new Convair 660 and 880 jet transports.

The walkout is slated as a one-day affair, called by the 6,000-member Engineers and Architects Assn.

Officials of the International Assn. of Machinists Thursday night said it would order IAM workers not to cross the EAA's picket line.

The move came as talks between the firm and the two unions remained deadlocked.

On another front in Southern California's troubled plane-and-missile scene, there was one hopeful note: Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s missiles and space division was expected to make an announcement — possibly a new contract offer — at a meeting in San Francisco today with another IAM union.

Involved are 10,500 employees at Lockheed facilities in Van Nuys, Sunnyvale, Santa Cruz and Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., and at Holloman AFB, N.M., and in Hawaii.

The IAM has authorized a strike at the Douglas aircraft plant in Santa Monica, Calif., next week.

The United Auto Workers has set a June 15 strike deadline at the Douglas plant in Long Beach.

The IAM assigned pickets five days ago at bases where Convair technicians were working on Atlas launching sits and other high-priority government projects: Cape Canaveral, Vandenberg, Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., Warren Air Force Base, Wyo., and Offutt Air Force Base, Neb.

Convair offered the engineers the same deal it did IAM workers: an 11-cent-hourly wage increase and a 3-cent-hourly cost-of-living hike. The IAM asks 14 cents and fringe benefits. Wage scales range from $1.79 to $3.40 hourly.

At Lockheed missile plants the wage scale now averages $2.65 an hour. The union is asking 7 per cent increases in each of the next two years.

Pact Accord Ends Blackout On Broadway

Actors Due Salary Increase; 19 Shows To Reopen Monday

NEW YORK (AP) — Actors and producers ratified a four-year contract Thursday night to end the week-long Broadway stage blackout.

Plans were made to reopen 19 of the 22 shows by Monday night.

The League of New York Theaters, representing the producers, unanimously agreed to accept a peace formula hammered out earlier Thursday under the direction of City Labor Commissioner Harold A. Felix. Members of Actors Equity Assn., by secret ballot, voted 773-54 for acceptance.

David Merrick, one of the producers, said he did not think the settlement would force a raise in ticket prices. "With careful management," Merrick said, "we will be able to hold the price line."

Under the new contract Broadway actors get their first pension fund, the crux of the dispute which shuttered Shubert Alley. The pension terms extend for six years, two years beyond the life of the pact.

Other terms are: Minimum pay for actors on the road will be $145 for the next two years and $150 the following two years. The present minimum is $135.

Per diem pay out of town goes to $10 or $12.50 depending on whether rehearsal payments are made. The present minimum is $7.50.

Rehearsal pay will be $82.50 for the first two years of the contract, $92.50 in 1962, and $97.50 starting in 1963. The minimum now is $75.

Minimum New York pay for actors goes from $103.50 to $117.50 a week.

To finance the pension program, producers will contribute one per cent of the actor's salary the first year, two per cent in the second and third years, and three per cent in the final three years.

Chester Ballot Count Upholds Kology Victor

Voter List Checked To Confirm Defeat Of Rossi For Council

A check of voter registration lists at New Cumberland this morning confirmed a one-vote victory margin for Chester Councilman Charles Kology, Democrat, over Dino Rossi, Republican, in the municipal election Tuesday.

Chester Council met in special session Thursday night for an official canvass of the balloting—a record turnout of 1,595 votes—and confirmed the results of the election with only a few minor changes.

The 130-129 vote in the First Ward where Kology edged Rossi was approved, and Rossi then requested a recount of the ward ballots. His counsel was Atty. Ruth Cox Turner.

The recount left the standings the same, but further investigation was made on two challenged votes—one for Kology and the other for Rossi. There was no evidence of either having registered in the ward.

Clerk Roy Cashdollar, who is also city election commissioner, went to the Hancock County Courthouse this morning to check the registration of the two voters.

He found one man was not registered, and the other had voted in the Third Ward but voted in the First Ward and consequently, neither was eligible. This check

Insists He Make Clear His Position

Vice President Fires Back At Governor Following Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he has discussed key issues in more detail than Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who had prodded him to make his views known before the nominating convention.

In reply, Nixon suggested that the two "have a discussion in depth" before television cameras.

Nixon, Rockefeller Meet With Smiles

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller greeted each other with smiles and great cordiality as they met today at a British trade exhibition in the New York Coliseum.

The two men shook hands warmly and exchanged greetings in a small, closed-to-the-public anteroom off the main lobby.

Also at the Coliseum was Prince Philip of Britain, who was on hand to officially open the 200-million-dollar British exposition.

Philip, rode to the Coliseum in a car with Nixon.

ly rejected the proposal. He said Nixon "does not need me to interrogate him on television."

"Once the vice president has made clear his position on the specific issues I have raised, I shall be glad to debate these issues with him."

Nixon told a news conference late Thursday, in answer to criticism fired his way Wednesday by Rockefeller, that he had clearly stated his views on key issues.

"I have set forth with great precision and major detail my views on the issues more than any other candidate," said the vice president.

But he indicated he is considering no change in his plans to wait until he gets the nomination before going beyond administration policies. He said he supports the Eisenhower record as "the best record in my lifetime."

At the same time, he avoided direct controversy with Rockefeller, whom he described as a man of integrity. He also said Rockefeller has a right, if he wishes, to criticize the administration or the Republican party.

The soft tone of his replies seemed to indicate that, confident of winning the nomination, Nixon is looking more toward the general election campaign and seeking to avoid alienating Rockefeller supporters. New York's 45 electoral votes could be decisive in November.

Nixon said he had held 47 news conferences "with no holds barred" during the last five months. He said that over the past 14 years "in the House and Senate and the vice presidency I have entertained questions on every major issue."

But Rockefeller countered with: "Only three weeks ago, the vice president stated publicly, 'If I become the candidate, I intend to present to the country a new program.'"

"This is the crux of the issue I have raised. The people, the Republican party and the delegates to the Republican convention are entitled to know what a 'new program' means. They have a right to know before, not after, the nomination of a candidate, precisely where he stands."

The two may meet face to face today in New York. Both were scheduled to appear at a luncheon honoring Prince Philip of Britain. The vice president and Philip were in New York for the opening of the British exposition.

Operation Expected In Month

7 Southeastern Towns Await Water 'Lifeline'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "pipeline that's a lifeline" should be completely in operation in southeastern Ohio within a month.

It's the Burr Oak Pipeline, designed to carry a million gallons of water a day from the Burr Oak Lake flood control project in Athens and Morgan counties to seven former coal towns.

State officials think of the 21-mile pipeline as a lifeline because they say it will open a new era of prosperity for the communities of Glouster, Trimble, Jacksonville and Hollister in Athens County; Shawnee and New Straitsville in Perry County and Murray City in Hocking County.

Equipment delays have pushed the completion date beyond the May 15 estimate, Project Engineer Ned E. Williams explained today. But he said the first half-serving Glouster, Trimble and Jacksonville—should be ready in a week, "or two weeks at the most."

This half, which feeds the No. 1 storage tank outside of Glouster, can operate while the other half is being prepared, Williams said. "Barring extreme difficulties," Williams added, the pipeline should be ready within a month. Bids were received in June 1959, and construction is under supervision of the Ohio Department of Public Works with money allocated to the Division of Water, a section of the Department of Natural Resources.

Williams said costs may be slightly higher than the $785,000 figure given earlier this year, and some have placed it as high as $887,000. Officials predict the project will pay for itself in 20 years.

Each of the communities has signed a contract to purchase water and will handle local distribution. Neil Butt of Newark has been appointed superintendent of the water treatment plant and pipeline, and already is on the job.

The Department of Natural Resources says the seven communities have only about 200,000 gallons of water available a day at present. In 1910, when coal still was being mined in the area, their population total was about 25,000. Now it is less than 6,000, the department says.

There still is coal, but it cannot compete with hotter-burning fuels of eastern Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. In addition, the department says, air blowing across the coal mine surfaces has created an acid condition which pollutes streams and even wells. The water shortage also means a fire hazard.

Five years ago, the (then) Ohio Development and Publicity Commission suggested industry might become interested in the area if water were available.

That same year, the Legislature appropriated $365,000 to create a new lake there. After a $7,000 engineering study, it was determined that there was no suitable location for a lake. The 1957 Legislature then reappropriated the money to build a pipeline from Burr Oak Lake.

Agreement was reached with the federal government, which had helped build Burr Oak Lake as a flood control project, but the work was not started until last year, and it was necessary for the 1959 Legislature also to reappropriate the money.

Water diverted from the lake at the Tom Jenkins Dam goes first to the water treatment plant next to the lake. The line then goes to Glouster, where it branches. One branch goes south to Trimble and Jacksonville. The other goes west and north to the No. 1 gravity tank, Hollister, Murray City, the No. 2 tank and New Straitsville and Shawnee.

With very little additional work, the Public Works Department says, the system can be increased to five-million-gallons-a-day capacity.

Wellsville Legion Auxiliary Cited In District Session

Wellsville American Legion Post 70 auxiliary received 2 citations for membership and was commended by the national vice president during the 10th District auxiliary convention Wednesday in Salem.

The auxiliary received a "professional advancement of colors and quota unit colors" citation for achieving its quota of members and a "first-day roll call" citation for achieving the quota by a fixed date. It also received a quota color ribbon to attach to the unit flag.

Mrs. Mae French, first vice president, has been heading the membership drive for 1959-60.

Mrs. Lester Nimon, national vice president of the Central Division, who helped design the new auxiliary hats similar to those worn by Legion members, complimented the Wellsville delegation from the stage because its delegates wore the new hats and matching Navy blue dresses.

The delegates were Mrs. Sara Rose, president; Mrs. Helen Seest, secretary; and Mrs. Dolores Excell, treasurer. The alternates were Mrs. Gladys Hurd and Mrs. Sarah Cronin. Mrs. Kathryn Hughes accompanied the group.

The delegates also will attend the state convention next month in Columbus.

Mrs. Clarence Killworth, state vice president, was speaker. Guests included Mrs. Dennis Smith of East Liverpool Post 4, state Pan-American chairman.

Mrs. Dorothy Peters was named chairman and the committee includes Mrs. Mateline Singleton, Mrs. Shirley Hayes, Mrs. Kay Waters, Mrs. Annie Jones, Mrs. Elizabeth Carter, Mrs. Winifred Jones and Mrs. Josephine Spencer.

Man, Wife Killed As Plane Crashes

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—Two persons were killed when their plane crashed Thursday night just after takeoff from the Findlay Airport.

Dr. Byron Voorhees, Hancock County coroner, identified the victims as Dr. Robert Ullum, 41, and his wife of Liberty Center (Henry County).

Investigators said a device used to keep control surfaces immobilized while the plane is parked were found still in place on the wreckage. With the device in place the pilot could not move the control surfaces.

A witness said the craft climbed to about 1,500 feet, turned, then crashed to earth. The man was thrown from the plane. The woman was trapped in the wreckage.

The Highway Patrol said the four-place Cessna 182 was registered to Dr. Ullum.

New Street Sweeper Shown City Officials

Raymond B. Volkman of Cleveland staged the demonstration on 1st Ave. to explain the workings of a sweeper manufactured by the G. H. Tennant Co. of Minneapolis. The machine has a vacuum feature to help pick up debris close to curbs.

The city's present sweeper is approximately six years old. Its purchase was financed by a bond issue during the administration of former Mayor E. Allan McKeever.

Who Is Confusing The Picture?

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York says he has tried to make abundantly clear his political position of the moment — that he is not actively seeking the Republican presidential nomination and that he will not accept the vice presidential nomination.

He cannot understand, he says, why some people keep trying to make his position appear otherwise.

Assuming he is sincere in these statements, it is hard to understand why Gov. Rockefeller will not accept Vice President Nixon's explanation of his political position at the moment — that as a member of the present administration he does not want to speak out in detail on his personal program until he is the Republican presidential nominee.

THIS IS a valid explanation. It is well known that Mr. Nixon has not always agreed point-for-point with the policies worked out among all the members of the Eisenhower administration team. It is also recognized that it would be politically unwise for him to run solely on the outgoing administration's record without refining it with his own particular viewpoints.

But it also would be detrimental to his party and in bad taste personally if he were to divorce himself from the work of the administration at this point and take off on a political tangent before the campaign is under way.

Gov. Rockefeller professes concern that the voters in general and Republicans in particular will not have enough facts about the party's platform and Mr. Nixon's role in it before the nomination is decided in the latter part of July.

As a politician, however, he should know that the Republican campaign platform will be worked out at the same convention that will nominate the party's candidate. A good deal of preliminary work will be done before the convention opens on July 25. If past experience is a dependable guide, the platform will not represent one man's thinking but the amalgamation of a lot of different thinking.

There will be plenty of opportunity. In other words, for Mr. Rockefeller and other Republicans to express opinions on what the party's platform will be. Surely the vice president will be among those whose influence will be felt.

MR. NIXON already has spoken out on many of the issues that will be foremost in the voters' minds in the months before election day. There is not much doubt about where he stands, in general, on those issues and there will be less doubt before the nomination is made.

As for the nomination itself, no national convention decision is certain until it has been made. All factors now point to Mr. Nixon as the Republican presidential nominee. But if any circumstances, within or beyond the vice president's control, cause Republican delegates to change their minds, there will be plenty of opportunity for them to act accordingly.

In the meantime, if Gov. Rockefeller really wants to keep his stated position clear of confusion and is sincerely interested in promoting his party's best interests, he should avoid trying to confuse Mr. Nixon's position.

Rule Of Law Must Prevail

With all due respect for and sympathy with Israel's feelings toward Adolf Eichmann, we believe Argentina has a valid complaint about the manner in which the accused Nazi executioner was taken into custody and removed to the Jewish state to stand trial.

The Latin American country's argument is that the unilateral action of Israeli agents in taking Eichmann from Argentina is a violation of the International Genocide Convention, to which both nations are parties.

Under the convention's rules, Argentina argues, Israel should have asked for the arrest and extradition of the wanted man so he could be tried either in Germany, where his crimes were committed, or by an international court.

This argument does not claim that Eichmann is innocent. It does not dispute Israel's desire to bring him to justice for his role in the murder of an estimated six million Jews during the Nazi regime in Germany.

It does assert that if nations are going to work out their problems according to the rule of law, they must apply the principle of law to all their dealings. Acceptance of the international rule of law demands first that nations abide by the terms of international agreements they sign.

The situation is comparable to many that arise within the United States. When one state wants a criminal in another state, it does not simply go and get him. It asks the officials of the second state to arrest him and give it permission to assume custody.

This system involves reciprocal agreements which both protect each state's sovereignty and permit cooperation between them to serve law, order and justice.

Argentina is concerned about the insult to its sovereignty implied in Israel's violation of the international convention it had agreed to. But other nations of the world are more concerned about the setback to efforts to establish the rule of law.

It will be unfortunate if Israel's impulsiveness creates an international issue that overshadows the meeting out of justice due to Adolf Eichmann.

Recognition Of Human Dignity

Dwight Eisenhower the Old Soldier is reported by intimates to be as capable as any veteran of the khaki of unleashing his temper in salty terms. But Dwight Eisenhower the President is known better for his public restraint on both anger and vocabulary.

His two talks before college audiences last weekend take on special significance on this score.

There is no doubt that he has been angered personally by the abusive language spewed forth for weeks by Nikita Khrushchev. Yet the President carefully has avoided any reply in kind.

Even when he spoke out against Mr. Khrushchev's attacks, he showed how it is possible to answer one's critics publicly without engaging in insulting crudity and excessively abusive talk.

He emphasized the importance of this in international relations by labeling the Kremlin boss and his colleagues as "enemies of human dignity."

It was the dignity element in the Eisenhower personality that stood out in contrast at Paris and rallied most of the world to his side, despite disappointment that an American U-2 had provided the excuse for Mr. K's sabotage of the summit conference.

This emphasis on dignity is not a hollow show, but a symbol of the difference between American and Russian policy.

The glorification of human dignity is part and parcel of the American system of government, of the American way of life, of the religious approach to human problems.

The destruction of human dignity is the road by which communism seeks most of its ends, despite its dialectics about the dictatorship of the proletariat.

Eisenhower the Man is as subject to human emotions as any of his fellow men, but Eisenhower the Statesman recognizes more is at stake when he talks than his own personal vindication.

Nikita Khrushchev is willing to devastate other men's dignity and insult the sense of dignity desired by the lowliest of men in order to serve his own ends.

He makes himself undignified in the process. Maybe that is what some of his colleagues in the Kremlin want.

Control The Cause

Summer is not the season of comfort and joy for the sneeze and snuffle set — the hay fever and asthma sufferers — and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has called attention to the problem with proclamation of Ragweed Control Month.

Ragweed, growing throughout various sites here and in other surrounding communities brings misery to those allergic to its pollen, and has resulted, in some cases in the nation, in death for asthma victims.

Anyone with ragweed or other pollen-bearing weeds growing near their homes should get rid of it. It is far more effective to get at the cause of the allergy, the governor points out, than to treat the unfortunate sufferers.

Harmony Rules At Baltimore Firm

By Victor Riesel

BALTIMORE There are those who say there's no news in good news on this beat. It isn't so. There's big news in the fraternizing of labor and management in this city of super-sonics, push-buttons, flying armaments, magical sky patrols and new equipment guaranteed to make Chairman Khrushchev cautious.

The big story is the fact that there aren't many strikes being called here except against the Orioles. And those are few because that club sure is winging in on the pennant.

While we're on the Orioles, let me pitch something at you which Westinghouse Corp. has developed. It's a specialty of their scientists — the social ones.

The company runs something called "Family Night."

For every baseball ticket a Westinghouse employee buys the company hands him another so he can take part of his family out to the ball park. The next family night is set for July 29 when the Orioles romp it out with Cleveland.

Other big defense production corporations in town—such as Bethlehem, Martin, Western Electric, Chevrolet Division of GM and National Plastic—are taking to the family night out like a bat to leather.

THIS NIGHT GAME outing is no gimmick. It's part of the Westinghouse employee communications plan which has worked so well there hasn't been a single day lost by a single employee because of a strike in any of the company's big electronic facilities in almost five years.

Westinghouse levels with its people — and the union folk I've spoken to say it's so. While talking with Bob Blazer, vice president in charge of industrial relations, I got a rundown on the unique employer-to-employee information exchange.

There is, for example, the Communicator. This is a network of telephones inside the plants. Any employee in any of the four installations can lift the receiver, dial 39 and listen to the company's latest news—good or bad.

This comes in a taped message changed each noontime, just as the phone company changes its weather reports on the hour.

Thus, when the government decided to eliminate the big B-70 jet bomber it cost Westinghouse a 100-million-dollar contract.

The firm put it on the Communicator. But it also reported that no one would be laid off. No one was.

And when the government came through with a 38½-million-dollar order for the new Typhon missile recently, the news was put on the Communicator. Those who dialed got it fast. That's the point. The company wants its people to know before rumors start or they get it from other sources.

THERE ARE employee News-grams—like telegrams—handed out to the workers so they can get the latest news affecting them. There are special letters dispatched to employees' homes so the wives will know of developments.

They are informed early of increases in the cost of living, which means matching increases in pay. There are year-end letters from each division manager telling the home folks what has been done the past year, what the goals are for the coming 12 months and what the employment future is.

Last year's letter, sent in December '59, reported Westinghouse's five-year plan.

The letter revealed that the work force of 7,000 would double to 14,000 by '64. This meant steady work and new opportunities—and made for a gay Christmas.

If this sounds Pollyannaish let the cynics make the most of it.

LET THE CYNICS talk to the workers whose jobs have virtually been guaranteed for another five years.

Let them talk to the government officials and company executives who are responsible for the steady output of aircraft armament systems and airborne systems for missiles at Air-Arm Division; of Missile ground control and special radar equipment at the Electronics Division; of torpedoes, mines and other underwater ordnance devices and pushbutton controls for ground military armament at the Ordnance Division and of superpersonics at the X-Ray Division.

Talk to the union leaders, some of whom have been besieged by a pro-Soviet labor outfit.

B. M. Brown, vice president of Westinghouse's Baltimore Divisions, told the left-wing union what he thought of it. So did other union officials and the rank and file. Both sides of the labor-management line liked what they had. If that's not news, I'll go bite a dog.

Distortion Of Life

By Truman Twill

Real life people aren't like most shadows on TV or ads in the paper, says a special commission of the National Council of Churches, which thinks this is a bad thing.

The commission thinks the mass media — newspapers, magazines, movies, TV and radio — should be encouraged to hew to the line of reality; that the image of man should be like man himself.

We disagree. The commission is making the error of assuming that because most people are good and churches, stand for the accepted virtues it is therefore wrong for the mass media to misrepresent life as bad and unvirtuous.

The commission is particularly disturbed when misrepresentation bears down on materialism and violence and vice. No one denies these are often overdone.

The excess does not necessarily have any effect on the public. We disagree with what seems to be the council's reasoning that the mirror in which the mass media reflect the shape of things should create no distortions.

All of us who survived the dime-novel era in this country's evolution feel pretty sure in our hearts that the distortions which made them a hot item had no lasting effect on our minds. We enjoyed the distortions.

Some of us who have watched honest razzing matches feel sure that the distortions created by the muscular actors in this form of entertainment business can do no lasting harm; that without them, razzing would be hopelessly dull.

We are not upset, in fact, by any of the other distortions we encounter as we live from day to day — not by dyed hair, ruby-painted lips, gunplay in the morality plays we watch on our gawk boxes, elevator shoes, little girls playing with dolls, garments that squeeze in unsightly bulges, capped teeth on actors, hair pieces on public pates, ceremonials in place of a few curt words, pomp and circumstance in place of a couple perfunctory gestures and a slice of ham on rye. We know the world we live in is full of distortions. The lady whose hands stay soft in dishwater; she is not really a housewife but a paid model.

The TV actors who go through all these heroics; they're not real gunmen. The bad guys aren't mean, and the good guys are just working stiffs with wives, kids and taxes.

Sin is not lurid and glittery; that is the false face that has to be put on to attract suckers. And it isn't the only false face in sight. Anywhere you look, you will be needing to note the difference between the surface appearance and what is beneath the surface.

Anyone can agree with the National Council of Churches that materialism and violence are overdone in the mass media, but the council must be ready to concede this is true because materialism and violence are adaptable to the graphic arts.

People know this and make allowances for it. They understand. They know when they leave the movies they will go home to a bowl of corn flakes and milk, not champagne and a night of wild adventure. They know when they look in the mirror they are seeing all they can take in one dose — themselves, big as life and twice as ugly. They long for a mirror with some distortion built into it.

The mass media can't be blamed for providing it, and indeed the National Council of Churches has no thought of blaming it. Its special commission merely proposes that true images be encouraged, false ones discouraged — a constructive approach.

Which leaves me free to enjoy movies, read books and watch TV plays about people unlike any people I ever will know in real life — as phony and far-fetched as the models in the ads who always look happy because someone bought them a new mop for Mother's Day.

Rockefeller's Blunder

By David Lawrence

Governor Brings Threat Of GOP Split

Gov. Rockefeller has delivered the most scathing attack against the Eisenhower administration that has come from any Republican of prominence.

Just how he thinks the Republican party can win the next election by a virtual repudiation of the Eisenhower leadership will puzzle anyone who really understands the rudiments of American politics.

As has been said so often in the past, any candidate who repudiates his own party's record cannot hope to win a national election. A party split wide open loses its effectiveness before the electorate.

Mrs. Rockefeller assails the administration's record on national defense and other issues and takes the viewpoint which several Democratic party critics have repeatedly expressed.

This will not win delegates for the New York governor at the national convention and, if he were intent on bringing about the defeat of his own party in 1960, he could not have chosen a better way to do the job.

He may have even disqualified himself as a party nominee in 1964 because the cleavage he will have made will be blamed on the statement he issued on Wednesday of this week.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER'S statement sounds as if it were pressed upon him by advisers who really don't understand practical politics.

Four years ago former Gov. Stassen of Minnesota started at the eleventh hour an attack on Vice President Nixon and it boomeranged. The net effect of the Rockefeller pronouncement this week may be the same — it is a call for disunity and not harmony in the Republican party.

Mr. Rockefeller says he has waited for the vice president to express his views but, oddly enough, the New York governor formally withdrew from the presidential race several weeks ago and refused to go before the voters in the various state primaries, while Mr. Nixon did participate in all the primary elections.

The vice president, moreover, made several speeches explaining his accord with President Eisenhower's policies. Mr. Nixon has gone before the people to ask them to uphold the Eisenhower administration's record and policies.

Should Mr. Nixon speak out on new policies before he is the party nominee and before the delegates have selected a committee to write the national Republican platform? Mr. Rockefeller evidently believes that Mr. Nixon is already the leader of the Republican party and now should write the platform to which the delegates would later be compelled to give their perfunctory consent.

This, of course, is not the concept of an "open convention" which political parties usually like to champion.

The impression given in some parts of the Rockefeller statement is that he considers Mr. Nixon already the nominee and that the New York governor may want to disassociate himself from the coming campaign.

If Mr. Nixon does express views contrary to those of Mr. Rockefeller and wins the nomination, the New York governor would have to eat his own words should he do any campaigning for the party nominee.

Or does it mean that he intends to remain aloof from the campaign anyhow and let the Republicans fight their own battles just because they do not accept his views?

Questions like these were being asked in Washington today by political folks who stood aghast at the Rockefeller statement.

NOTHING LIKE IT has been issued since former President Theodore Roosevelt broke with President William Howard Taft in 1912 and brought about the defeat of the Republican party.

Much of the Rockefeller statement is given over to generalities about national purpose. It is couched in the same vague language that Adlai Stevenson and the "egghead" philosophers repeatedly use.

They have always had an obsession that issues can be made out of abstractions far over the heads of the average voter. They tried it in 1952 and in 1956, but they failed.

The issue in 1960 will be whether the Republican administration deserves a vote of confidence and whether Vice President Nixon has been sufficiently experienced in the making of Eisenhower policies to carry them forward.

Republican speakers on the stump will not be attacking—they will be defending the Eisenhower record. If that record has not won the approval of the voters, no Republican candidate can expect to win by espousing the policies and proposals of the opposition party.

Two things stand out clearly. Gov. Rockefeller has forfeited any chance to be the Republican nominee for president or vice president this year. He may have even forfeited his chance to be the presidential nominee in 1964 if Vice President Nixon is defeated this year.

Nixon Jabbed Again

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Twice in a row, with no one in sight likely to take the Republican nomination away from him, Vice President Richard M. Nixon got jabbed with a red-hot needle. Both times he stayed quiet 24 hours.

Both times this happened to be just long enough to let the Republican leaders in Congress rush to his defense against the needles — as they did — before he did any talking.

The first time it was Harold Stassen who jabbed him, just when Nixon seemed to have the Republican vice presidential nomination sewed up in 1956. Now it's New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, just when Nixon seems to have the presidential nomination cinched, although Rockefeller would like to get it.

Rockefeller said it was about time Nixon started saying precisely where he stands on the big issues. Nixon replied that he not only has talked on them but has been more precise than Rockefeller.

The fact is: Neither has been completely precise at all. Few seekers of political office ever are.

It was only July 23, just a few weeks before the 1956 Republican convention, that Stassen started his dump-Nixon campaign, arguing Nixon would lose the party votes. Stassen suggested Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts for the vice presidential nomination.

Republicans in Congress, with visions of Stassen splitting the party, rallied around Nixon. Herter didn't have a chance. In fact, he said he not only didn't want the nomination but would nominate Nixon himself.

Nixon came out of silence then. He didn't waste any time on Stassen. He just praised Herter. But he reacted far more energetically to Rockefeller.

Rockefeller, who got out of the Republican presidential race last December and jumped back in in May, fired his blast at Nixon on Wednesday. The Republicans in Congress closed ranks around Nixon.

Then Nixon went to New Jersey Thursday and at a news conference said he had talked on the issues and had been more precise than Rockefeller. He challenged the governor to a "discussion in depth," perhaps before television cameras. Rockefeller said Nixon "doesn't need me to interrogate him on television."

The Once Over

We "bugged" the hospital room of Casey Stengel during his recent illness while the Yankees were in a slump and got this:

Nurse: How are you feeling today?

Casey: I won't know until I find out last night's score.

Nurse: Your pulse is better.

Casey: It's always good BEFORE GAME TIME.

Nurse: Do you feel feverish?

Casey: I am suffering from the first case of feverishness to last two seasons. May I have a drink of water and, please, don't drop it.

Nurse: I never drop anything.

Casey: I wish my team could say the same.

Nurse: Did you sleep well last night?

Casey: No. I kept seeing my Yankee pitchers.

Nurse: Are that bad?

Casey: Is that kiddin'?

Nurse: How often do you have nightmares?

Casey: I've been having 'em since April.

Nurse: You'll be all right soon.

Casey: Not if I keep getting the league standings. What's wrong with me?

Nurse: You have a virus.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Allen Wylie was named chief of police of New Cumberland, succeeding Paul Jones.

By unanimous vote, the Rev. John F. Dimit was called for his 22nd year as pastor of the First Methodist Protestant Church.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The Kiddies Carnival association began reorganization of its membership in preparation for the fifth annual free carnival.

The auxiliary of Pvt. Eddy Post 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, won first prize for the best uniformed women's marching group in a celebration at East Palestine.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Bette

Joan Betz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert A. Betz of Blackmore St., received a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Washington University at St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Nessie Helen Dunlop of Fisher Ave. was graduated "cum laude" at Mt. Union College.

The origin of hand-clapping as a means of applause dates from ancient times. A young child instinctively expresses delight or joy by clapping its hands, so primitive people probably did the same. Ancient Greeks and Romans clapped hands in applause. The word "applaud" comes from the Latin, meaning to strike the hands.

Globe Brick Foreman Dies Of Heart Attack

Edward E. Moore of Rock Camp, Rt. 30, foreman at the Globe Brick Co. at Newell, was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital Thursday about 8:20 p. m. He had suffered a heart attack earlier at his home. He was 57.

Boys State Gets Into 'High Gear'

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Buckeye Boys State got into high gear today as some 1,150 high school juniors began framing platforms, writing rules and selecting some of the nominees for officers in their mythical "51st" state.

This is the 23rd annual school in self-government sponsored by the American Legion. Sessions are being held on the campus of Ohio University.

Closely following today's party caucuses in each of the 23 cities will be the two state conventions. Each convention has 184 delegates. Thursday night the boys learned to which of the two parties they owed their allegiance. By a toss of a coin the boys with odd-numbered registration cards became Nationalists and those with even-numbered cards became Federalists.

At tonight's session, Mylio S. Kraja of Youngstown, state legion commander, will be guest speaker, and the new Boys State band will make its debut.

Boys State ends about noon Saturday, June 18.

Million French Civil Servants Go On Strike

PARIS (AP)—More than a million French civil servants who work more pay stayed away from work today, disrupting activities ranging from air traffic to garbage collection.

The widespread 24-hour strike even postponed funerals because gravediggers are employed by the government.

Workers in private industry and business breathed easier when the trains, buses and subways continued to run normally and an expected sympathy strike by transport workers failed to develop.

The most notable sign of the strike was the array of garbage beginning to pile up in French cities.

Government ministries were on skeleton staffs—with all the clerks and junior employees out on strike. Normal government routine came to a standstill.

No heads were sent to Columbus during the month for a check on rabies, he said.

Buyers Given Check List On Home Repairs

The Chamber of Commerce today issued a check list for East Liverpool property - owners approached by door-to-door salesmen offering home repairs and improvements.

The list was prepared by the National Better Business Bureau, which stressed the fact that every

City-Issued License Is No 'Endorsement'

The fact a door-to-door salesman carries a salesman's license issued at City Hall constitutes no city endorsement or recommendation of the products he sells, Mayor Bert H. Goodhallet warned householders today.

The issuance of a license shows only that he meets the legal requirements for such a permit, the mayor pointed out. It does not mean that the city endorses, recommends or sponsors the product offered for sale, he emphasized.

community has contractors of proven reputation, but warned that other firms of "unknown reliability" often solicit business door-to-door.

The BBB check list suggests: Check the contractor's reputation carefully. Ask your banker or Chamber if there is doubt in your mind.

Avoid gimmicks. If you want full dollar value in your improvements, remember that no one gives "something for nothing."

Buy standard merchandise and avoid the "just as good" merchandise some firms offer.

Compare the quoted price. If you think it is high, with the offer of a reputable local contractor.

Read the written contract and make sure you understand it before signing.

Never sign any blank papers or notes. Obtain a copy of all papers you sign.

Sign the completion certificate only after you are thoroughly satisfied with the completed improvement.

Report any complaints of poor workmanship immediately to the financial institution that financed the work.

The Chamber pointed out that the BBB receives more complaints on home improvements than in any other field. The U. S. Commerce Department estimates there are about 500,000 contractors, builders and suppliers of property improvement products. Approximately 200,000 of them use the FHA property improvement program.

but the helicopter had landed and a flying wedge of police rushed Hagerty, MacArthur and Stephens to it. The helicopter lifted them away before the crowd could close in again.

A police spokesman said the metropolitan police were "taken completely by surprise." He said violence was not anticipated since the leftists had been orderly at their last massive demonstration, on June 4.

Hagerty said he figured the demonstrators intended to harm him, adding: "I don't think it is friendly to throw stones or have people climb on the roof of the car and smash windows."

In their first charge at the limousine, the demonstrators rocked it from side to side. Hagerty, MacArthur and Stephens hung on inside until the rocking stopped.

Then the Japanese police arrived and surrounded the car.

When the Marine helicopter attempted to land, the demonstrators surged forward in massed groups. They defied the whirling blades standing underneath and blocking the plane from landing.

At last the helicopter succeeded in landing some 50 feet away. In seconds, the three men were whisked by police out of the battered car and into the copter. It leaped up out of reach, leaving the shouting mob behind it in a cloud of dust.

ended the possibility of a tie vote in the ward results.

Cashdollar said the total vote Tuesday was the largest in the city's history, surpassing the 1,413 votes cast in 1956.

The turnout was apparently boosted by interest in five write-in candidates' campaigns, a 2-mill levy for a swimming pool, which passed, and good weather.

Kology was the only Democrat elected in the balloting which found Ray Collins winning the mayor's seat and four other Republicans taking Council posts.

The new GOP members of the administration, due to take office July 6, held an informal meeting Wednesday night at the home of William Bishop, Fifth Ward councilman-elect.

Politics

As the dispute between Rockefeller and Nixon continued, Democrats watched happily from the sidelines. Former President Harry S. Truman said: "It shouldn't hurt us any. The more they fight the better satisfied I am."

Rockefeller touched off the first fireworks Wednesday in a lengthy statement which called on Nixon to spell out his views on top issues.

The governor listed his own views and was critical of parts of the Eisenhower administration's program.

Nixon held off a reply until Thursday's news conference at Camden, N. J., noting that Rockefeller heads one of the largest delegations to the nominating convention, the vice president said.

"I would be willing to sit down with the head of any delegation and discuss all the issues. One way to resolve the issue is for the governor to meet with me and discuss all the issues in depth." He said that if Rockefeller wants to meet before the television cameras for such a discussion in depth "I am sure it can be arranged."

Before Rockefeller turned down the idea, Nixon accepted an invitation of the American Broadcasting Co. to appear on its radio and television network for a discussion with the governor.

Nixon, considered a shoo-in for the Republican presidential nomination, was asked at the news conference if he would accept Rockefeller as a running mate. Rockefeller has repeatedly said he would not accept the vice presidential nomination but has stated he would accept a presidential draft.

The vice president replied, "I can assure him that his oft-repeated desire that he not be drafted as a candidate for Vice president will be respected certainly by me. Certainly be me."

Nixon said he did not agree with some of his colleagues that Rockefeller should not have spoken out.

He added: "He would not be true to himself if he had remained quiet."

Nixon said he had studied the 10 points brought up by Rockefeller and added "on each of these I have discussed them in more detail and more precisely than did the governor."

Several Republican Congress members backed Nixon in the dispute. Some of them said he had clearly presented his views. Others said he should wait until after the Republican convention to outline policies that will extend in some cases beyond the Eisenhower program.

Rockefeller noted these varying views and said: "I find it difficult to reconcile the contradictory responses by the vice president and his supporters." He added the vice president "today insists that he has spoken his views on all national issues in great detail."

But his supporters simultaneously insist that he has been perfectly correct in not stating his views until after the Republican convention.

Rockefeller expressed no surprise when told that a majority of his state's Republican members of Congress reportedly were supporting Nixon for the nomination. The 18 were polled Wednesday night.

"Is there anything new about that?" he asked.

July 25 In Chicago

GOP Leaders OK 4-Day Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican organization leaders have approved plans for a streamlined five-session, four-day national convention despite the renewed possibility of a contest over the presidential nomination.

National Chairman Thruston B. Morton predicted such a contest Thursday following New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's challenge to Vice President Richard M. Nixon to speak out on the issues. But Morton also stressed his belief that Nixon has the nomination practically in the bag.

Shortly afterward, a convention arrangements committee headed by Morton approved plans for a four-day convention opening July 25 in Chicago. Day and night sessions will be held the opening day, and only night sessions the following three days. Sessions would last three or four hours if no hitches developed.

Although no lengthy fights are anticipated, Jaren L. Jones of Utah said the national committee has reserved the International Amphitheater, the convention site, for eight days just in case. Jones is vice chairman of the arrangements committee.

The national committee meets today to approve convention officers picked by the arrangements committee Thursday. Several speeches also were set.

Jones said the only day session of the convention will be for the purpose of organizing. This session on opening day will start at 10 a.m. Central Daylight Time. The evening session that day will start at 7:30 p.m. and will feature the keynote speech by Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota.

The Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday sessions also will start at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night is being talked of for a speech by President Eisenhower. The platform may be presented the same night.

Wednesday night has been set aside for nominating speeches and roll calls on the nominations for president and vice president. The final night session will be for acceptance speeches by the nominees.

The Convention Arrangements Committee Thursday also named Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia as temporary chairman, and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House minority leader, permanent chairman of the convention.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Heffelfinger of Minnesota was named convention secretary.

The arrangements group also approved the prior selection of Charles H. Percy, 40, Chicago businessman, as chairman, and Rep. Melvin R. Laird, 38, of Wisconsin, as vice chairman, of the platform committee.

Underwood, a candidate for the Senate, is 37 and his selection gives further accent to youth for the convention.

Here's Status On Top Bills In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a rundown on the status of some top bills pending in Congress:

FOREIGN AID — A House Appropriations subcommittee Thursday voted to slight about 800 million dollars from President Eisenhower's original request for $4,175,000,000. The action is subject to review by the full committee next Monday.

HOUSING — A Senate Housing subcommittee this week completed a $1,581,500,000 bill that far exceeds Eisenhower's requests. It goes now to the full Banking Committee which is expected to send it to the Senate floor soon.

SCHOOL AID — An attempt to send conflicting House and Senate measures to a conference committee to iron out differences was blocked in the House Thursday by the single objection of Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.). His maneuver sent the matter to the House Rules Committee, where it is likely to languish until Congress adjourns in July.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please print this letter, if space permits, and dedicate it to the woman who signed herself "The Wife." I hope all wives who are dissatisfied with the men they married will take a close look, too.

Dear "Wife": May I have your husband? I'd love to take him off your hands, even with his bad table manners, his sloppy way of leaving clothes on the floor and the bum jokes he tells.

I'm 35 years old and I can't seem to get a man. I'm a career woman and although I put on a big act of "loving my independence," deep inside I'm desperately lonely.

I long to have a man who will come home to me at night. He won't have to tell me he loves me. Just having him home will be proof enough. He won't even have to make conversation. If he's too tired to talk, I'll understand. If he's grumpy, I'll know he had a bad day at the office.

And if you're fed up with your children, as so many people seem to be these days, I'll take them too. —LONELY.

Disagree On Dating

Dear Ann: You never got a letter like THIS before. I am 15, blonde and popular. My mother is nagging me out of my mind because she wants me to go steady. I don't want to go steady for all the reasons you have listed so often in your column.

I agree with you that a young girl misses a lot when she ties herself down to one fellow in high school. Also, it's true, as you have said, that when kids go steady they get to thinking they own each other and this can be bad.

My mother has different ideas. She was born in the old country so maybe this accounts for it. Anyway she claims a young girl should pick a nice, respectable boy, and go only with him.

She says girls who go with a lot of different boys get bad reputations. She says America is the only country where this goes on and that Americans have more divorces than anybody. Is she right? What shall I tell her? —HEY-TEE

Dear Hey-TEE: I am sure your mother wants what in HER opinion is better for you but in this case I think she is mistaken.

All the reasons you listed for not wanting to go steady are valid.

Your mother is correct about the high divorce rate in America but one of the major reasons is the increasing number of teenage marriages—which is the result of going steady at an early age. You may also tell your mother that divorces are easier to get in America than in most countries.

Haunted By Lie

Dear Ann: To make a long story short, I am a liar. I told a real cute girl I was a freshman two years ago because I wanted to be a Big Man.

Now I'm just a freshman and she's a smart sophomore. I live in fear someone will sell me out. We go to different schools but we know a lot of the same kids.

Would it be best to tell her I was sick and missed a year or should I tell her I went to Europe for a year which set me back? The truth is, I'm right where I ought to be. Please help me.—BIG MOUTH.

Dear Big Mouth: You're right where you ought to be, all right—behind the 8 ball. The trouble with a lie is you have to tell 10 more to cover it up. Come clean—the sooner the better—and no more fibbing.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Exercise Helps Change Dress Sizes

It scarcely seems possible that a loss of 22 pounds could change a girl's size from an 18½ to a 14. But it is the beautiful truth. One exercise-minded young woman made it happen.

Last fall a Pennsylvania woman weighed in at 130 pounds for 5 feet 3½. She had these measurements: Bust 40, waist 31, by Ida Jean Kain hips 44. Here are her weight and measurement changes: Weight 128, size 14, bust 38, waist 27½, abdomen 34½ and hips 38.

"You asked which exercises helped me the most. I found the stretch-bends in which I pulled slim through the middle helped me slim down through the waist and midriff. I feel that the sit-up exercises helped to strengthen the girdle muscles."

HERE ARE her favorite streamliners: Position: Lying on back, pulling flat against floor, arms back on floor overhead, legs straight down.

Movement: Get a firm grip on middle muscles, swing arms forward and come up to a sitting position. . . then go on over and touch fingers to toes. Lower trunk to starting position and repeat. To keep feet on floor, anchor them under a heavy piece of furniture. And try to make the exercise one continuous motion. This is rugged, so take it easy at first.

Rolling smack across the hip spread helped slim down that measurement.

Position: Sit on floor, tailor-fashion, with ankles crossed.

Movement: Roll slowly and heavily across the fleshiest part of the hip, with a sort of rock-and-roll motion.

The cross-over helped to flatten stomach and reduce the hips:

Position: Lie flat on floor, arms outstretched at sides, shoulder level.

Movement: Raise right leg up to form a right angle and, keeping a firm up-pull through the middle muscles, swing leg across to touch right toes to left fingers.

Miss Marlene J. Scalera, Harold A. Leonard Jr. Wed

Miss Marlene June Scalera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic J. Scalera, 621 Beaver Ave., Midland, became the bride of Harold Ashton Leonard Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Leonard of Fairview, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in the Presentation Catholic Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Fr. Robert P. Garland, assistant pastor, before the altar decorated with palms. Mrs. Elmer Angellone, organist, played the nuptial music during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white silk organza gown over taffeta fashioned with a Basque bodice. Sabrina neckline of Chantilly lace embroidered with pearls and long, pointed lace sleeves.

Lace encircled the hem of the bouffant skirt which was caught up in front with a bow and extended into a chapel sweep in back. The fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a pearl crown. The arm bouquet of calla lilies was centered with two white orchids with caladium foliage and streamers and stephanotis. She observed all the traditions.

The matron of honor was her twin sister, Mrs. Joseph Muldoon, of Brentwood. She wore a ballerina-length dress of white silk organza fashioned with a fitted bodice, portrait neckline edged with Nile green silk organza and flowered applique.

The bouffant skirt had a deep hem of Nile green encircled with flowered appliques. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow daisies and snapdragons. Her headpiece was a Nile green circular face veil with a pearl crown.

Ivan Hapach of Midland was best man and ushers were Atty. Ralph F. Scalera and George Leonard, brothers of the principals.

The bride's mother wore a Nile green two-piece ensemble, green hat, doekin accessories and a corsage of yellow roses, daisies and stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue lace dress with blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses and stephanotis.

A dinner for members of the immediate families was held at DeRamo's Azure Room following the ceremony and a reception, in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, was held at the home of the bride's parents for about 300 guests. Both events were given by the parents of the bride.

A four-tier wedding cake decorated with green roses topped with a miniature bridal couple centered the bridal table.

Following a week's wedding trip, by plane to New York City, the newlyweds will reside at 817 Riverside Dr., West Bridgewater. For traveling, the bride wore a green two-piece suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Both are graduates of Midland High School. The bride was graduated from the Allegheny General School of Nursing at Pittsburgh and is employed as a registered nurse at the Rochester General Hospital. Her husband is attending Geneva College and works for the Crucible Steel Co.

Sun Glass Rays Blamed For Fire In Avondale Bed

Sun passing through a pair of sun glasses lying on a bed was blamed for a fire at an Avondale St. home Thursday afternoon which destroyed a mattress, bed and bed clothing and damaged a wall and a rug.

Russell E. Hall, 800 Avondale St., said focusing of the sun's rays through the glasses appeared to be the only possible cause of the fire. Hall said his teenage children denied having cigarettes or matches, which firemen at first blamed for the fire. The alarm was received at 2:20 p. m.

The contents are insured, Hall an insurance company manager, said. The home is owned by Laura Swan.

The department was called to the home of John W. Shaffer, 1829 St. Clair Ave., at 9:05 p. m. when a pot of beans apparently burned. Firemen said a passerby saw smoke and notified the North Side station.

Firemen were called to E. 5th St. at 9:50 a. m. yesterday when a lighted cigarette set fire to a city trash box.

Wilk Shows $931 Cost In Commissioner Race

Rudy Wilk of Wellsville spent $931.56 in a successful campaign for one of two Democratic nominations for county commissioner in the May 3 primaries, he said in a sworn statement of expenses on file today with the County Election Board.

Two more candidates have filed the reports. William Y. Orr of East Liverpool, unsuccessful GOP candidate for commissioner, said he spent $96.70. County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge of Lisbon, who was renominated on the Democratic slate without opposition, said he had no expenses.

June 17 at 4 p. m. is the deadline for the reports, which must be filed by all candidates — whether or not they were successful — and by committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

MIDLAND INDUCTION. New officers of the Midland Junior Women's Club were installed at a dinner meeting Thursday evening at Deramo's Restaurant by Mrs. George Samarin of New Brighton, Beaver County Federation leader. Left to right are Mrs. Richard Wilton, treasurer; Mrs. Eugene Fritz, retiring president; Mrs. Robert Katich, recording secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Novak, president; Mrs. Peter Benedict, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Samarin and Mrs. Maurice Newman, first vice president. Meetings will resume Sept. 14.

Speaker Cites Choice In Life At Lisbon Rite

LISBON — Choices of goals and objectives that face graduates were cited by Dr. John Calvin Reid of the Mt. Lebanon Presbyterian Church in a commencement address Thursday night to 87 Senior Class members at Lisbon High School. An estimated 1,000 attended.

Taking his theme from "The Three Caskets" in the play, "Merchant of Venice," Dr. Reid told the graduates they also face decisions that will have serious consequences on their future lives.

"You can seek your personal desire — what you think you would like — or you can decide your true worth and then make sacrifices to gain your objectives," the minister said.

The co-valedictorians were Miss Eileen McCullough, who spoke on "Gateway to the Future," and Tom Brooks, who discussed the "Value of Education." Each finished the 4 years with a perfect 4.0 average.

Principal George M. Nace Jr. presented the class to Dr. Wade A. Bacon, president of the Board of Education, who distributed the diplomas.

Special music was furnished by a brass sextet, Joseph Chapman, Lois Everett, Darlene Kelch, Paul Kosower, James MacDonald and Robert McPherson.

Fr. William Hohman of St. George Catholic Church gave the invocation and benediction. Paul Kosower played the piano for the processional.

Building Use Refused

HAMMONDSVILLE — Continuing a policy in effect for many years, the Stanton Local Board of Education has rejected a request of the Parent-Teacher Association for sponsoring record hop dances in the elementary building.

The PTA made the request after voting 31-15 in favor of sponsoring dances pending approval of the board. The board said the Stanton Local High School building is available for such events.

Politically Class Conscious, UAW Figure Says Of Wealthy

CLEVELAND (AP)—"The people who own and control most of the wealth of this country are politically class conscious, and are working hard to maintain their vested privileged position in our society," Emil Mazey told the Ohio AFL-CIO convention today.

Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers, said in a speech prepared for 2,000 delegates:

"We in the organized labor movement must work effectively if we hope to elect people to political office who are dedicated to advancing the common welfare of all of our citizens."

Mazey said that in the 1956 elections "big business spent $33 for every $1 spent by organized labor."

"Twelve of the richest families in the country, the Pews, duPonts and Fords and others contributed $1,153,735 to the Republican Party, while all organized labor made contributions of $941,271 to candidates of their choice on behalf of their 18 million members," the veteran UAW leader declared.

He said "we must elect a president who is willing to go on television and on radio, and to the press in advancing the cause for full citizenship for our minorities, better housing for our underprivileged, and improve living standards

Township Board Airs Mail Change

The possibility of a change from a rural to a mounted mail route for residents of Meadowbrook Estates was discussed by the Ohio Township Board of Supervisors Thursday evening at the fire hall.

Advantages and disadvantages of the possible change will be aired with residents. With a rural route, residents may purchase stamps and buy money orders which they cannot do under the mounted system, supervisors explained.

Residents of Midland View attended and asked for road repairs in their area.

Joe Kadlak, chairman, will meet with Atty. Sam B. Wilson of Beaver, solicitor, about the sanitary problem of rats at the dump in the township used by Midland Borough.

A joint meeting was set for June 25 for supervisors, the Municipal Authority, the Planning Commission and the Citizens' Committee.

3 New Cases Reported By County TB Control

LISBON—The Columbiana County Tuberculosis Control Department said it reported three new cases of tuberculosis to the State Health Department during May. Two county patients were admitted to sanatoriums and four were discharged.

Dr. F. G. Kravac, administrator, gave 18 consultations and the clinic gave 142 chest X-ray examinations.

Two staff nurses made 300 home visits to patients receiving treatment.

Funds for operating the clinic come from a county TB levy and the clinic gives diagnostic service and treatments for active, questionable and inactive cases in the county.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Fifty-one ladies from all the states and the District of Columbia are on pins and needles today awaiting the crowning of one of them as the new Mrs. America.

The winner will receive her crown at 11 p. m. from Mrs. Margaret Priebe of Des Moines, Iowa, who has traveled a half million miles during the past year as Mrs. America of 1960.

The new Mrs. America will put in as much travel for sponsors of the annual contest glamorizing the role of the American homemaker.

Winners of seven categories of competition were announced Thursday. They were:

Mrs. Alabama (Martha Smith), hair styling; Mrs. Michigan (Gertrude Scott), bathroom design; Mrs. Oklahoma (Mary Jane Mason), laundry; Mrs. Alaska (Marlyn Porter), casserole; Mrs. Texas (Betty Cutbirth), cake; Mrs. Tennessee (Helen Waters), dessert.

Mrs. Hawaii (Claire Johnson), tile floor design.

These selections do not assure the women they will be named among the 10 finalists from which Mrs. America will be chosen. Poise and personality as well as homemaking ability are considered by the judges.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—John J. Delaney of New York, editor of two Catholic book clubs, today was awarded the eighth annual Marian Medal by the University of Dayton's Marian Library.

2 Taverns In District Get Permit Suspension

The permits of two district taverns have been suspended for alleged violations after hearings conducted by the State Liquor Control Board at Columbus.

Two 42-day concurrent suspensions were decreed for the Port Homer Inn on Route 7, operated by John M. Abdalla, administrator of the estate of John A. Abdalla. The state charged that football "spot" cards and numbers slips were found on the premises Dec. 15 and that the same inspection showed a pinball machine on which gambling was allowed. The suspensions will take effect next Thursday and continue until July 27.

A 7-day suspension was ordered for Leo M. Bielski, permit holder for the New Garden Inn at New Garden. The permit-holder was accused of allowing consumption of alcoholic beverages after the legal closing hour Feb. 20. The suspension takes effect June 21 and continues until midnight June 27.

Elevators in Britain are called "lifts."

OSU Seniors Cautioned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The coming decade of high income for the masses can breed indolence and complacency or can raise America to a new level of greatness, 2,291 Ohio State University graduates were told today.

The words of caution and promise came from Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, Ohio State's president.

Moral and spiritual decadence, he asserted, is the most serious threat to this nation's freedom.

"The responsibility of freedom rests too lightly on our shoulders for our safety as a free people," Dr. Fawcett declared, adding:

"When payola is a subject for witty repartee; when an afternoon bridge game becomes a perfectly good excuse for failing to exercise the right to vote; when even a few allegedly educated men and women build their lives around the question—What's in it for me?—then it would appear that the most serious threat to our freedom is not an external one."

Dr. Fawcett told the state's largest graduating class:

"What is important is that you produce the utmost that is in you and that you do it for a nobler purpose than self-gratification."

"It would be the height of stupidity for men and women of your potential to settle for a bland, spiritually empty, morally bankrupt, third-rate life when a first-rate life is within your reach."

"While you graduate in a period of unbelievable opportunities for material abundance, you also graduate in an era when our survival as free men and women hinges on our intellectual and moral strength."

The total number of degrees awarded today includes 244 masters' and 87 doctors' degrees.

Among the degrees is the first posthumous degree ever awarded by the College of Dentistry.

Fred Lautenberg, who died Feb. 14, 1960, of carbon monoxide poisoning, was voted the degree by the executive committee of the college. Lautenberg was a fourth-year dental student from Dayton.

The highest grade average of all the graduates was maintained by Elizabeth Towne Norton of West-boro, Mass. Walter C. Giffin, of Bucyrus, was second highest in the class. His average was one of the best ever made in the College of Engineering.

Sandra Ann Shively, of Dayton, received the 1,000th bachelor of science of nursing degree awarded by the university.

The comedy team will perform in the Salineville firemen's event while other members of the department will march in the Lawrenceville procession.

Sealed bids will be accepted until Wednesday for sale of the wrecked Ford model fire truck. It was damaged about a year ago and prospective purchasers may inspect the truck at the rear of the fire station.

Civil Defense equipment was cleaned. Ten members attended and Robert Jones, chief, presided. The group will meet Thursday night at 7 at the fire station.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President John Brown of the Ohio Branch of the Kentucky Veterans will meet today with Gov. Bert Combs of Kentucky. Segment Of Buckeye Trail Is Completed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An eight-mile segment of the Buckeye Trail in Hocking County has been completed, Dr. Roy Fairfield, president of the Buckeye Trail Association, reports. It is the first marking of the trail.

Fairfield, editor Bill Miller of the Logan Daily News, and Tom Lloyd of Logan marked the first segment with a special blue paint. The portion starts at Ash Cave and extends north to Big Rocky Fork Creek. Fairfield has set up a trail-marking bee Sunday, July 26, and hopes to complete the Hocking County leg of the hiking path then.

Speakers Due At Convention

Three top labor officials have accepted invitations to speak at the 66th annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters June 27-July 1 at Seattle.

They are Peter J. McGavin, assistant to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO; Sol Barkan of the Committee on Political Education (COPE) and Ralph Wright, director of the International Labor Organizations. Representatives of the Washington State Federation of Labor and the Seattle City Central Labor Council also will speak.

About 220 delegates are scheduled to attend from IBOP local unions. Most East Liverpool area delegates will travel in a special coach on the Great Northern Railway. Some will fly and others will drive.

The printed program carries 60 resolutions, including a recommendation for lowering the age for Social Security benefits, a proposal increasing IBOP strike benefits, revision of the international constitution and a suggestion to hold conventions every 2 years instead of annually, as at present.

Union's Top Officials To Act On Strike Vote

The Executive Board of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, comprised of the top officers, has been petitioned by Local Unions 45 and 49 to support a strike vote which the locals have taken against the Crane Co. of Trenton, N. J., a sanitary ware manufacturer.

The IBOP said the case now is pending before the board. The strike vote was taken in connection with a dispute over a hospitalization and welfare plan contract, the international headquarters announced.

The boy and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harless, had been visiting friends at Chesapeake. After the boy disappeared while playing with some children, sheriff's deputies and auxiliary police were called.

Board Talks Canceled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has canceled his annual summer conference for election board members and clerks, attributing extra demands during the 1960 presidential election. Election boards with special problems will receive individual consideration, he said. The Church of Sweden now has its first three women ministers.

The Sports Bench

He Pitched Again . . .

A few years ago several teenagers were injured, some quite seriously, in an automobile accident near East Liverpool. One boy in the car was listed in "critical condition" with severe head injuries. That boy was Dave Hornick, who at the time was a pitcher and a good one for the East Liverpool High School team. But he almost lost his life in the accident and it was doubtful that he would ever pitch again.

However, five years later, this same athlete was the leading pitcher on the Bowling Green varsity squad this past spring.

Dave returned home this week for several days after completing an impressive season at Bowling Green. His record was 3-0 and the performance has brought attention from at least one major league scout who is affiliated with the Chicago Cubs.

The righthander chalked up victories over Kent, Marshall and Findlay and his 3.38 earned run average also led the club.

He pitched more innings than any other hurler on the team and showed 44 strikeouts in 45 innings. Although Bowling Green finally was beaten, Dave retired the first 18 men to face him against Miami of Ohio and had a no-hitter working for six innings.

Dave, who will be a senior next year, turned hitter against Detroit and clubbed a home run.

He will return to Bowling Green next week to attend summer school in an effort to speed up his graduation. This summer Dave is scheduled to pitch in a fast Toledo independent league where his college coach is manager.

Pitching runs in the Hornick family. Dave's brother George was a standout in high school and signed a contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates. He played minor league baseball for one season before calling it quits.

When Dave graduates next spring, he would like nothing better than to see a professional contract come flying his way.

Scandal In Little League . . .

ANOTHER SCANDAL is brewing in Little League baseball on the National scene. For the second straight year, the team that won the Little League World Series, has shown reason to be investigated.

Two years ago a team from Mexico won the Little League championship and it was brought to light later that they used over-aged players.

Only late Wednesday it was revealed that the Hamtramck, Mich., team, the 1959 champion, has been charged with using non-residents last year.

It was reported that the Hamtramck team has been barred from national tournament competition. The charges were brought against the Hamtramck team by the Harper Woods, Mich., Little League squad, which lost to Hamtramck in the Michigan state finals.

It is too bad the Little League officials of Hamtramck guided their youngsters in the wrong direction.

More Than Just A Sunday Drive . . .

IF YOU think that the '500' drivers are just out for a ride on Memorial Day each year, you have another thing coming.

We received a breakdown of the prizes awarded the winner Jim Rathmann and the other contestants in the Indianapolis 500.

First of all for Rathmann was $10,000 in total prizes. The big chunk of this was the $66,800 cash prize for winning the gruelling 500-mile event.

Then comes the remainder of the prize list for Rathmann which includes the Oldsmobile pace car, a $1,000 wardrobe from an Indianapolis clothing store, movie projector, tool chest and a $100 merchandise certificate.

On top of this comes several thousand dollars for endorsements.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

TWO DISTRICT athletes competed in spring sports at Geneva College. John Zawoyzky of Midland played his final season with the Geneva baseball squad and Ralph Lewis of Wellsville was with the golf team.

JERRY LUCAS, Ohio State All-American sophomore, is expected to keep in shape part of this summer playing in an outdoor basketball league at Wheeling.

He is scheduled to play during the June 14-Aug. 12 period while visiting his Buckeye teammate John Havlicek who lives in nearby Bridgeport.

Of course, Lucas also will be busy playing three exhibition games at Canton, Morgantown and Cincinnati with the U. S. Olympic team.

Hall's Team Captures Amateur-Amateur Play

Everson Hall's team became the 1960 Amateur-Amateur champions at the East Liverpool Country Club Wednesday afternoon.

The winning quartet composed of Hall, Bill Hocking, Dick Crable and K. W. Turner fired a 30-30-60 to capture the annual event.

Father and son captained teams to a two-way deadlock for second. Don Burbick's team of William Harris Jr., R. McDaniels and Don Ogilvie fired 31-30-61 to tie a team led by Craig Burbick.

Young Burbick's team turned in a 29-32-61 and included Bill Cooper, Bob Wells and Bill Gilmore.

Sixteen teams competed in the event and a buffet dinner followed.

The Baltimore Orioles are carrying four rookies — Steve Barber, Chuck Estrada, Marv Breeding and Dave Nicholson.

Tigers Continue To Claw Orioles By Sweeping Set

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians, leading the American League by 1½ games now that Baltimore's Baby Birds have laid an egg, roll into Yankee Stadium for the opener of a four-game series tonight in a showdown with the revived New York Yankees.

Cleveland now has won five in a row, sweeping a four-game set at Boston with a 3-2 decision over the last place Red Sox Thursday.

Baltimore, blowing a 1½-game lead in 48 hours, dropped a twin-night doubleheader to Detroit, 7-5 and 7-4, as the Tigers swept the four-game series and handed the Orioles their sixth defeat in eight games.

The Yankees, 3½ games behind after winning five of their last six, made it three straight over Chicago with a 5-2 victory that spilled the White Sox to fifth, .002 percentage points behind Detroit.

Kansas City ended its losing string at five with a 7-2 victory at Washington.

In the National League, Pittsburgh regained a two-game lead with an 11-3 victory at Chicago while Cincinnati whipped second place San Francisco 7-4. Third place Milwaukee, 4½ games behind, defeated Los Angeles 6-5 in the only other game scheduled.

A sixth-inning home run by George Strickland, the first of the year by the Cleveland third baseman, hung the defeat on Bill Monbouquette (5-5). Rookie Wynn Hawkins (4-3) needed two innings of two-hit, shutout relief by Johnny Klippstein for his first victory in three decisions.

The Tigers made it six out of seven on a pair of home runs by Frank Bolling, who drove in five runs to beat reliever Arnie Portocarrero (3-2) in the opener. Then the Tiger second baseman triggered a five-run fifth with a two-run homer as Detroit wiped out a 2-1 Baltimore lead and beat Hal (Skinny) Brown (5-2).

Meikey Mantle's two-run homer in the fourth inning, his 11th of the year, did it for the Yankees. Rookie Johnny James (2-0) won it in relief. Frank Baumann (3-3) was the loser.

The A's junked their slump with six runs on seven consecutive hits with two out in the fifth inning. Danny Kravitz' first AL home run, a three-run, inside-the-park job, was the big blow off loser Pedro Ramos (3-7). Ken Johnson (2-3) was the winner.

Golden Star Wraps Up 1st Half Championship

Golden Star wrapped up the first half championship in the American Division of the Little League with a 9-1 victory over Travelers Hotel, but the showdown battle for the National Division title is set for tonight.

Chester Legion and Burbicks, both winners Thursday, clash head-on tonight at 5:30 p. m. at Myler Field all tied with identical 5-3 records. Three games tonight will end the first half of play in the Little League.

Chester Legion walloped McBurrneys, 17-6, in a game called after five innings because of darkness. Burbick had to win its game by claiming a 6-4 victory in nine innings.

Carl Natalina carried Burbicks into tonight's showdown battle by walloping a two-run homer in the ninth inning to give Burbicks its victory. Mike Goodballet, who started for Burbicks struck out 14 batters before he had gone his limit under league rules.

While Natalina was the hero at the plate he also won the game for himself when he came in as a relief pitcher late in the contest.

Chester Legion showed a potent 14-hit attack against the McBurrney hurlers.

John Finley pitched and batted Chester to victory. On the mound he struck out 10 and at the plate smacked a triple and two singles. Kenny Brewer and Bill Wright also collected three hits each for the winners.

"Hot Rod" Collins homered twice for the losers and Jerry Chaney belted a pair of doubles.

Mike McFarland's two-hit tuckered away the American Division title for Golden Star. He struck out nine in going the route.

The Dairymen stroked 11 hits with Blaine Clendenning and McFarland getting three each while Bill Smith smacked two doubles.

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco's slumping Giants shove off on what could be a week of worries — seven days against Milwaukee and Pittsburgh — as they open a four-game series with the Braves tonight.

The second place Giants slid two games behind Pittsburgh in the National League race with a 7-4 loss to Cincinnati Thursday, their sixth defeat in 11 games on the home stand, while the Pirates rapped Chicago's Cubs 11-3.

Milwaukee, 4½ games behind in third place, made it seven out of nine by coming from behind for a 6-5 victory at Los Angeles Thursday night in the only other game scheduled.

In the American League, Cleveland took a 1½-game lead by defeating Boston 3-2. Detroit completed a four-game sweep at Baltimore that dropped the Orioles to second place, beating the Birds 7-5 and 7-4 in a twin-night doubleheader. New York took over third place from Chicago with a 5-2 victory that spilled the White Sox to fifth place, .002 percentage points behind Detroit. Kansas City defeated Washington 7-2.

Tribe Sweeps Red Sox To Stretch Winning Streak To Five

Hawkins Wins Fourth Game For Indians

NEW YORK (AP)—The league-leading Cleveland Indians take a five-game winning streak into their game with the New York Yankees here tonight. The Yanks are fresh from taking three in a row from Chicago.

Right-hander Bobby Locke, who shut out Detroit last Sunday in his only major league start this season, will pitch for the Indians in the opener of a four-game series. He will be opposed by Art Ditmar, who has won three games and lost three.

The Indians swept a two-game series the last time they visited Yankee Stadium.

They extended their current winning streak Thursday with a 3-2 victory at Boston that gave them six straight without a loss against Boston this season. Coupled with Baltimore's double loss to Detroit, the victory put the Indians 1 1/2 games on top.

A sixth inning home run by George Strickland with the bases bare was the margin Thursday. The homer was the season's first for the veteran, playing third base in place of Bubba Phillips.

Wynn Hawkins, rookie right-hander, recorded his fourth victory with the help of Johnny Klippstein, who hurled scoreless ball the last two innings. Hawkins, who hadn't won since May 5, has lost three.

The defensive work of center fielder Jim Piersall was a major factor in the victory. With the bases loaded and two out in the first inning, Piersall made a shoe-top catch of a liner by Gary Geiger. Three runs would have scored had the ball bounced past him.

In the third inning Piersall fielded a bases-loaded single by Vic Wertz and made a perfect throw to catcher Hank Foiles, who tagged out Ted Williams trying to score from second base.

The Indians got their first run off loser Billy Monbouquette in the second inning on doubles by Woodie Held and Foiles. They added another in the fifth when Pete Runnels bobbled Aspromonte's roller to third base and Harvey Kuenn doubled.

The Red Sox got a run in the third on Wertz's single, and their other run in the seventh on singles by Pumpsie Green and Runnels and a sacrifice fly by Williams.

Spahn, Jones Duel Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A pair of aces, Warren Spahn and Sam Jones, open a showdown to night as the Milwaukee Braves battle the San Francisco Giants in the first of a four-game series.

Second place in the National League could be at stake since the Giants, currently in a slump, hold the spot with the Braves in third. San Francisco lost to the Cincinnati Reds 7-4 Thursday as Jerry Lynch, Vada Pinson and Whitey Lockman all homered for the visitors while the Giants collected just five hits.

Giants Manager Bill Rigney kept the press cooling its collective heels nearly half hour after the game. When the newsmen did shuffle into his office, Rigney observed:

"That's just amazing, just amazing, amazing. It's just amazing how we don't hit."

The Giants have lost three of their last four games and six in 11 in their current home stand. They lost only five of the first 19 they played in Candlestick Park.

Rigney indicated further juggling of his lineup when he said, "We'll have to come up with some sort of an idea to get two hits in a row."

Spahn, 34, is 10-10 in 1960.

Jones, 33, is 10-10 in 1960.

Tight Races Seen With NAIA Golf In Final Round

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — Tight races for both individual and team titles developed today as the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) golf championships head into the final round.

William Wright of Western Washington and Lamar College of Beaumont, Tex., led in the two divisions, but Thursday's round bunched challengers within striking distance.

Carl Snelson of Central Oklahoma State blistered the Bemidji Town and Country Club course with 3-under-par 69 to move within two strokes of Wright. Wright, with a 54-hole total of 216, was one-under-par Thursday.

Pre-tourney favorite Lamar, runner-up last year at Quincy, Ill., lost ground in the third round to Central Oklahoma. Only six strokes separate the two. Lamar had an 888 going into today's play, Central Oklahoma 894.

Arcaro On Venetian In Belmont

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Five weeks and two defeats later, Eddie Arcaro gets his chance Saturday to put Kentucky Derby winner Venetian Way back on the victory trail in the 92nd running of the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes.

Eddie also has an opportunity to set a personal record of seven victories in the 1 1/4-mile test for 3-year old horses.

Trainer Vic Sovinski announced late Thursday that he had decided on the 44-year-old Arcaro as the rider of the chestnut colt from Isaac Blumberg's Sunny Blue Farm in the last of the triple Crown classics.

Arcaro almost got the Venetian Way assignment in the Kentucky Derby. But on the eve of the May 7 race, Sovinski decided to stick with out-spoken Bill Hartack. Since winning the derby by 3 1/2 lengths, Venetian has finished fifth in the Preakness and fourth in the Jersey derby.

Eddie has ridden in every Belmont stakes since 1937 except in 1943, when he was under suspension. His last winner was with Nashua in 1953. Before that he won with One Count (1952), Citation (1948), Pavot (1945), Shut Out (1942) and Whirlaway (1941).

The presence of Arcaro on his back is almost certain to shorten the odds on Venetian Way. But Bally Ache, the Turfand Syndicate's $1,250,000 purchase after winning the Preakness, remained the firm 8-5 choice as the names of the horses were dropped into the entry box this morning. Bally Ache also won the Jersey derby, edging C. V. Whitney's Tompon in a ding dong duel.

Eight horses are expected to be entered. If eight run, the purse will be a record $152,150. All carry 126 pounds.

Bally Ache Comes Up With Ankle Injury

NEW YORK (AP)—Bally Ache, the $1,200,000 colt which won the Preakness, turned up with an ankle ailment today which may force him out of Saturday's Belmont Stakes.

A veterinarian, Dr. William Reed, was summoned to the Bally Ache barn after a workout this morning.

There was no immediate announcement from the horse's owners or trainer.

Wide Open Race Seen For Ohio Senior Title

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A wide open race for Ohio's 20th Senior Golf Championship was in prospect today as nine players were bunched within five strokes for the dash to the wire.

John R. Jacobs, 55-year-old Canton insurance executive, was out front by a stroke with 36-38-74 over Columbus Country Club's 6,508-yard par 35-37-72 layout. Four birdies, three of them on par five holes, helped him into the pace-setter's role.

Only nine of the 135 starters were able to break 80, despite the perfect playing conditions.

J. C. Watson, 56-year-old Steubenville stock broker, was the No. 1 challenger at the end of the first 18 of the 36-hole medal play test. His 38-37-75 left him a stroke off the pace. He flew into town in time to tee off Thursday after competing the previous two days in the national seniors at Rye, N.Y.

Close up, and with a good chance to close the gap, were Cincinnati's R. Gale Evans and Don W. Gill, the latter the 1958 champion, at 76; Alton Purcell of Cincinnati,

National Golf Day To Be Observed Here

National Golf Day, in which golfers from all over the United States with the help of their handicaps attempt to defeat the professionals, will be observed at the East Liverpool Country Club Saturday and Sunday. 77; J. B. Bixler of Akron and Herb Lape of Columbus at 78, and Ralph Wagner of Dayton and 1952 champion John Valuska of Steubenville at 79.

Neil Ransick of Cincinnati, the 1936 Ohio Amateur champion, was seven strokes back with 81, and Walter Cope of Lima, 1953 winner of the seniors crown, had 83.

The players range in age from 55 to 83, and there were two of the latter, R. M. Noll of Marietta and R. T. Lewis of Marion were the oldest, and they scored 106 and 107 respectively.

The field is divided into five-year age brackets, and the same prizes—except for the championship—go to the winner and runner-up in each class. The low scorer for the 36 holes, regardless of his age bracket, takes the crown. In case of a tie, a sudden death play-off will decide it.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Frank Bolling, Tigers, drove in five runs with two homers and a double in two-night doubleheader sweep over Orioles, winning the opener 7-5 with a two-run homer and triggering a fifth-inning comeback with another two-run shot for a 7-4 decision in the second game.

Pitching — Bill Henry, Reds, saved 7-4 victory over the Giants with 1-2-3 innings of perfect relief, striking out Willie McCovey and retiring Willie Kirkland on a fly with bases loaded in the eighth.

Babe Ruth hit 17 home runs in September when he hit his record number of 60 homers in 1927.

Ohio's Trap Shoot Opens

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — The doubles championships and preliminary handicap shooting events get underway with a bang today in the 74th annual Ohio State Trap Shooting Association tournament.

Handicap shooters may be placed anywhere from 19 to 27 yards or more from the line. Normal distance is 16 yards.

In Thursday's events, Dale Millar of Ashville came out ahead in a shootout to win the Class AA crown. He and John Sternberger of Dayton had tied with 198 each of a possible 200. In the shootout Millar shattered all of the 75 clay birds to Sternberger's 74.

Other winners and their classes (out of a possible 200 score):

Class A—E. J. Doyle, Reading, 196. Roy Finell, Toledo, 194, was second.

Class B—Bob Fenn, Bellevue, won a shootout from Dave Berlet, Wapakoneta. Fenn got 25 of 25 to Berlet's 24 after they had tied at 194.

Class C—In another shootout Jim Rutledge of Springfield broke 25 birds to Jim Minniger's 24. They had tied at 195. The second place man is from Fairfield.

Class D—Kent Stopher, 14-year-old from Trotwood, placed first with 188. H. H. Miller of Clayton was second with 184.

Baseball Injury Fatal

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP)—Joyce Madden, 14, of Portsmouth, N.H., died Thursday in Chelsea Naval Hospital of injuries suffered Monday when she was hit in the head by a baseball.

Two Are Tied In Oklahoma Links Tourney

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The south wind — always a factor in Oklahoma golf tournaments — resumed Thursday after being calm several days but it didn't stop Ernie Vossler and Bobby Goetz from grabbing the lead in the first round of the Oklahoma City Open.

Vossler, a veteran from Midland, Tex., and Goetz, a rookie on the professional circuit from Tulsa, Okla., fired 5-under par 66's over the 6,440-yard, par 71 Twin Hills Country Club course.

The 72-hole, $30,000 tournament ends Sunday.

Hot on the trail of Goetz and Vossler going into today's second round was Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., who carved out a 35-32-67.

Arnold Palmer, the defending champion, started with a 2-over par 37 on the front nine then closed with five birdie putts for a 31 and a 68 total that tied him with Bob McCallister of Yorba Linda, Calif., Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., and Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill.

Named Bellevue Coach

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP)—Charles Hickman, a guard on the state high school championship team at Bellevue High School in 1944-45, was named to coach basketball at Bellevue High School Thursday.

Hickman, a graduate of Florida State, succeeds Burnell Hoffman who is resigning after four years. Hickman was reserve basketball coach at Bellevue and football backfield coach.

Evashevski Is New AD, Leaves Grid Job Open

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—The appointment of Forest Evashevski as athletic director at the State University of Iowa Thursday leaves the job of finding someone to carry on his highly successful record as university football coach.

While the problem exists it is not immediate. Evashevski will take over Aug. 15 when Paul Brechler, present athletic director, leaves to become commissioner of the Skyline Conference but the 1960 Iowa football squad will be an Evashevski-coached team.

Mickey Mantle hit only six of his 31 home runs batting right-handed in 1959.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Unruly Child Should Be Punished

Of her son, 9, who has a sister, four, a mother writes from Arkansas: "He becomes upset — cries and whines — when he is denied a special privilege or suffers a disappointment. He lacks self-control. 'I f I say David, please dry the dishes,' and he wants to read or go to play, he may By Garry Meyer. stamp his foot and say 'Golly, I never get to do anything!' and then he is unhappy all the time he is performing the job. The same is true if he is denied a toy, etc. "We can ask him repeatedly to do or not to do a certain thing before he finally realizes we mean it. "He seems to me to be a very determined child. As long as everything goes his way — plays when he wants to and gets what he wants — he is very easy to handle.

"NOW I KNOW this is true with most of us, but I know some children learn to accept disappointments."

My reply in part: You and the father talk and do nothing until you get good and mad.

When you say No to that child, make it final.

If he doesn't obey as you say this word once, assign a penalty, such as requiring him to sit doing nothing, unamused, where you can see him, for exactly 30 minutes. Let him learn that if he should leave the chair too soon, he would get a sound paddling.

Stealing Became Challenge

Employee Stole $59,000 In Goods To 'Give Away'

VERNON, Calif. (AP)—At first, said police, warehouseman Joseph Gruber helped himself to his employers' wares "to help friends."

Then he took home a truckload of toys, and gave them away to children in his neighborhood, detectives said.

"Soon stealing became a challenge with him," said officers. They said Gruber, a 27-year-old bachelor, used a company truck to take items home from the discount house where he worked. Among the items, said police, were these:

Television sets, radios, tape recorders, power tools, shotguns, rifles, silverware, household appliances, cameras, typewriters, luggage, air conditioners, a dinette set, a complete hi-fi set, a mahjong set and a portable cement mixer.

Methodist Conference Votes To Increase Area Districts

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Delegates attending the annual session of the Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church here voted Thursday to increase the number of districts in the conference area from 11 to 13, effective in 1962.

During the next conference year, a committee will redistribute the churches in the districts as they are now organized. The increase in districts will mean that the average number of churches administered by a district superintendent will be 48 instead of the present 60.

In other action Thursday the delegates:

Went on record as opposed to capital punishment, commending the efforts of Gov. Michael V.

DiSalle to outlaw such punishment in Ohio.

Supported the position of the Methodist Church encouraging planned parenthood and called a worldwide program of education for birth control a matter of necessity for world peace.

Called for development of a climate that will make possible racial integration in churches of the conference.

They also urged the North Central Jurisdictional Conference to make a study of financial problems which are delaying transfer of churches from the Central (Negro) Jurisdiction into the white conferences of the Methodist Church in Ohio.

after defense lawyers said they had been surprised by the introduction of Internal Revenue Service records. The tax records showed three Dover gamblers paid more than $37,000 in federal gambling taxes in three years.

How Can I
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove rust spots from ceramic tile floors?

A. Dissolve one part of sodium citrate with six parts of commercial glycerine. Add water to thin the mixture, then mix with sufficient whitening to form a paste. Spread this over the rust spots in a thick coating, scrub, then rinse off.

Q. How can I make varnish dry faster?

A. Fill a shallow vessel with hot water and place the can of varnish in it while working. It will make the varnish flow much easier, and it will also dry in a shorter time.

Q. How can I make shredded coconut remain on the tops of cakes?

A. Brush the cakes with a little sugar syrup, or the syrup from preserved fruit. Then shake the coconut over the cakes.

Library Displays 100 Menus Brought Home By Travelers

More than 100 menus from abroad are on display in the reading room of the Carnegie Public Library.

They were brought home from all corners of the world by local tourists and preserved by H. B. Barth, curator of the Historical Society.

Guaranteed to intrigue the gourmet and offer suggestions for summer meals, the collection represents such exotic spots as Singapore, Cairo and Ethiopia. There are elaborate and artistic bill-of-fares from Mediterranean, Caribbean and Pacific cruise lines. Canada and the British Commonwealth are also represented with a group from the famous Grosvenor House of London and the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec.

A further lure to vicarious travel is to be found in guides at the library. The Panorama series is exquisite photographic color tours of every major city and region in central and southern Europe. This series, which is printed in Munich, Germany, surpasses in perfection of color reproduction any American travel books. An additional collector's item from abroad is R. F. Jordan's "The English House" with 376 illustrations.

A travel book with religious adventure is Sylvia and Peter Duncan's "Bonganga." This is a deeply moving account of a young missionary's fight against sin, disease and ignorance in the Belgian Congo.

A pair of novels with a definitely English flavor has received the plaudits of all the critics and can be found on this week's new bookshelf. The first is C. P. Snow's "The Affair," which delves into a faculty scandal in a great English university, and the second is "The Mingham Air," by Elizabeth Fair, a humorous tale of life and love in an English country village.

Mary Ellen Chase weaves the plot from her new novel, "The Lovely Ambition," from a bit of both English and American background. A Wesleyan parson immigrates to the state of Maine. It is a departure from her other novels for there are more characters and much more suspense than Miss Chase usually devises.

Stephen and Ethel Longstreet have spent a great deal of time in the Orient. Their latest fiction product delves into the mystery of "The Geisha."

Two recent volumes seem appropriate to the rare air of June. F. F. Rockwell has completely revised his famous book on flower arrangement and Roy Bedichek, who died just last year, reveals a whole new world in his exploration of "The Sense of Smell."

Canton Man, Son Hurt In Mishap At Guilford
